Inspiring design

Tarkett designers talk about trends and influences

At Tarkett, we put as much effort into the appearance of products as we put into their performance. Flooring is a fundamental part of any interior design, and since our floors are built to last, they need to be both stylish and timeless.

That is why Tarkett has its own design studio, staffed by some of the most talented designers in the business. Their job is to design the floors that allow our customers to realize the interiors of their dreams. Turn the page to meet one of the Tarkett designers.

What does it mean to be a designer at Tarkett?

Retro Now Trend

We are always on the lookout for what's new.

It's an amazing job. We are always on the lookout for what's new. We observe people, behaviours, trends, tastes and lifestyles to better understand what today consumers are looking for in terms of interior design. People need to identify with our designs so they can't be too conceptual or elitist. At the same time, people want a floor that reflects who they are

What were the inspirations behind Tarkett's new Laminate range?

We've drawn our inspirations from several sources. Looking at different countries and interior trends, but also our customers' lifestyles. The natural beauty of wood played an important role in the creation of the items, but also the influence of craftsmanship, which is so important to create a classic wood design. Effects like a white, mat oiling or gentle saw marks show the combination of nature and crafts

But laminate is also a fantastic material for breaking the rules.

It is really great to show the patina of materials but also to develop a brand different product or create something completely new by mixing old and new.

Every time you look at materials like old doors, fences or even cobblestones you think about how to make it as a laminate floor. A really big source of inspiration is also developments in furniture, fabrics, wallpaper and paint colours. Because, in the end, all these elements have to fit together to create a good interior design.

Pretty City Trend

Ceremony House Trend

What are the main trends you have identified?

There are four main trends that we see over the coming years.

The first one is called “Ceremony House” and is all about luxury and extraordinariness. This luxury can also be seen in small details like metallic accents or velvet upholstery. Decoration styles are rich and bold, heavy fabrics and dark wood are mixed with classic furniture. The perfect style for people who like timeless interiors and precious things around them.

Another important trend which has developed over the years is called “Retro Now”. Here we see a comeback of crafts, reclaimed items and reinvention of a warm and friendly past. Old designs are coming back with a twist, like larger scales in the pattern or fresh colours and are mixed with new items. This urban trend allows followers to mix everything and it leads to a fresh interior where everything is blended together.

“The natural beauty of wood played an important role in the creation of new items...”

On top of these two, one of the most visible trends in today’s interior design is what we call “Inspirational Nature”.

The use of natural and soft materials, like wood and wool in pastel colours, beige and greys, create soothing atmospheres. It is all about cosiness which is clearly visible in furniture and decoration with mat surfaces and natural fabrics but also sustainable materials which are poetic and simple. People’s lifestyles are often driven by a meditative attitude with a strong focus on self-caring.

Bright and bold are the hallmarks of the fourth trend. “Pretty City” is about fashion, fun and technology. Graphic pattern and primary colours create environments full of optimism and possibilities.

For the “selfie generation” it’s all about sharing on and offline. For these people a perfect living situation is all about flexibility. Furniture which is easily movable or expandable but also smart storage solutions and connected devices everywhere. Materials should be unique with outstanding structures and pattern, mostly colourful and always witty.

Sustainability

At Tarkett, we do not see sustainability as a constraint. Instead, it inspires us to think afresh in everything we do. We develop resource-efficient products that are designed to be reused and recycled with the minimum impact on the environment over their lifetime. In essence, it's about doing the right thing from the start.

See here our closed-loop sustainability approach scheme.

How is this translated for our Laminate products and production?

GOOD MATERIALS

Our laminate products are made of 84% natural materials, mostly wood.

The wood and raw materials we use in our production are handled in a sustainable manner. Our plant is FSC (Forest Stewardship Council) and PEFC (Programme for Endorsement of Forest Certification) certified. And the wood we use is PEFC certified, we do follow-up its origin.

We also purchase our wood in a radius of 250 km from the factory, from well managed forests having a positive impact on CO₂ emissions (less transport > less emissions).

RESOURCE STEWARDSHIP

At Laminate Park (our laminate plant), close to Saarbrücken, Germany, we aim at minimizing our waste and upcycling our manufacturing waste.

We follow strict norms to ensure we use proper processes and methods: both ISO 14001 and ISO 50001 are used to continuously improve our energy management. We have our own water treatment system. It means that no waste/polluted water from the production site flows into the public sewage systems. We have also reduced, between 2014 and 2015 our water consumption from 6.2 to 5.1 l / m².

We also have our own energy production plant on site. The majority of our production waste is re-used in the production of our energy. For example, 66% of all energy consumed is produced by recycling sawdust and wooden chips, which are a renewable energy source. The hot gas and steam produced by our energy plant is used in the wood fiber process production.

In 2015, the electric production at Laminate Park was: 15.000 Mega Watt – enough to power nearly 4 000 houses for a year.

PEOPLE FRIENDLY SPACES

We use no materials that might pose a risk to the indoor living environment and during recycling.

• Blue Angel Certification

The German Government's label for Environmentally Friendly products and services. The Federal Environment Agency sets specific standards for products and services regarding 4 main aspects: saving resources, especially saving water, climate friendly and health conscious. Blue Angel certification shows that our laminate respects all these.

• Good indoor air quality

• Low VOC emissions

Tarkett laminate has extremely low VOC emissions as also demonstrated by our "Ü" certification. The German National Technical Approval has measured our laminate VOC (volatile organic components) emissions and has found that they are well below the limit established by the norm DIN EN 14041:2008-05.

• Clean product to install and maintain

The glue-less nature of our laminate floors makes it a clean product to install and its maintenance requires no chemicals.

REUSE AND RECYCLED

At the end of its life-cycle, laminate flooring can be reused or recycled as an energy source; it is totally combustible and can be incinerated without dangerous emissions.

LONG BOARDS 932

The good old ranch style floor boards have taken a trendy twist. Their large dimensions lend a very natural look to the deco and at the same time they give perspective to the room they are laid in. The traditional pine with a vintage look has made room for the classic oak that will bring volume and modernity to a classic living room.
